MIAMI COUNTY COMMISSIONERS ANNOUNCE CONCERT SERIES ON COURTHOUSE PLAZA

Lunch on the Plaza

TROY, OH -- Starting on Friday May 7, 2021 and going through the end of September, the Board of County Commissioners will be sponsoring a Friday concert series on the historic courthouse plaza at 215 West Main Street in Troy. Concerts will begin at 11:45 a.m. and will be finished by 1:00 p.m.

"We are planning on highlighting local musicians as well as younger talent through band and orchestra programs at local schools. This is a unique opportunity for our residents to enjoy free entertainment in one of the most iconic buildings here in the county. We certainly hope folks come out and enjoy the music, the plaza, the entire environment," said Commissioner Wade Westfall.

"It's important to note that no taxpayer dollars are being used for these events; this series is being underwritten by private donors. We thank them for their support of this activity and hopefully we can grow this series next year," said Commissioner Greg Simmons.

"We are excited to use the plaza in this new way," said Fellow Commissioner Ted Mercer. "Last year we completed this project and we are looking forward to using this renovated space for more events like this in the future."
